NOT ENOUGH BEDS

Hospitals struggling to cope with traditional rise in seasonal health problems

REPORTER

ben.weich@london.newsquest.co.uk

Epsom and St Helier Hospitals ran out of beds earlier this month, and on another day St Helier closed a section of its accident and emergency (A&E) department for an hour.

NHS statistics revealed that on Monday, December 7, all 668 beds within the Epsom and St Helier University Hospitals NHS Trust were occupied.

All but one bed was taken the following day, as it was three days later on Friday, December 11.

On three occasions in the same week the trust had only one bed free for patients in adult critical care.

And on Friday, December 4, St Helier Hospital had to divert ambulances to other A&E departments for an hour according to an NHS England Situational Report, a weekly report carried out throughout the winter by NHS England.

A spokesman for the trust said: "The divert was not related to capacity and, importantly, it wasn't a temporary closure of the whole A&E unit."

"It only applied to patients who may have required treatment in the resuscitation area of the department, with ambulances diverted for 60 minutes."

Epsom and Ewell borough Councillor Eber Kington said it was part of a wider national problem as hospitals across the country struggle with seasonal health problems.

Coun Kington said: "The Government is saying it's putting more money into this sort of thing but the evidence on the ground is that it's still not working."

"It does not bode well for the start of 2016."

"The cold weather makes you worried about people both getting sick and slipping and injuring themselves – and how the hospitals will cope."

Besides Epsom and St Helier, in the week beginning December 7, three London hospital trusts ran out of beds, two had to divert ambulances and others had to partially close wards as the winter vomiting bug placed pressure on the NHS.

Last month Surrey Downs and Sutton Clinical Commissioning Groups handed Epsom and St Helier Trust its biggest-ever funding boost in an effort to stave off financial meltdown over Christmas.

Children's services, weekend support and A&E is benefitting from £1.8m in winter funding.

The funding has provided additional nursing and medical staff in the A&E, additional nursing, medical, therapy, phlebotomy and radiology staff over the weekend and additional medical and nursing staff in children's services.

At the time the trust's chief operating officer Jackie Sullivan said: "We are already seeing increases in the number of patients that need our services."

"We have to prepare for that demand to grow even further over the coming months, as people are more likely to pick up respiratory conditions that need hospital treatment or are at increased risk of injury due to icy and slippery conditions."

"Every year we tailor plans so we can anticipate and deal with any surge in demand during winter, and that is the approach we are taking this year."

Joy for children's ward

Father Christmas brought soft toys, chocolates and even the gift of speech to sick children in Epsom Hospital.

St Nick brought a sack of presents to Casey Children's Ward on Saturday, December 19 and, more importantly, a smile to the faces of poorly children this Christmas.

One girl, Daisy Hunt, six, had not spoken in four days before the visit – but after meeting him, she was so excited she could not stop.

Norman Hephner, owner of Ewell Window Company in Chessington Road, Epsom, convinced Father Christmas to bring some early festive cheer to children of Casey Children's Ward.

Staff in Santa hats and festive jumpers brought early Christmas cheer to elderly people in sheltered housing in Epsom by serving Christmas feasts.

Talking newspaper has 'a place in all our hearts'

craig.richard@london.newsquest.co.uk

Epsom Egghead and Radio 2 presenter Jeremy Vine gave a Christmas message of thanks to a team of dedicated volunteers who bring the news to life for blind and partially-sighted residents in the borough.

Mr Vine, 50, praised more than 30 volunteers who broadcast and distribute the Epsom and Ewell Talking Newspaper to 126 visually-impaired listeners every week.

The team held its Christmas party on Thursday, December 17, and is taking a well-earned break before resuming normal service in the new year.

Mr Vine, who was voted out of Strictly Come Dancing last month, was taken off the air temporarily after he lost his voice, but took the time to thank all at the Epsom and Ewell Talking Newspaper.

Mr Vine said: "I know what the talking newspaper means to its listeners cannot be over-estimated – because it

"I thank you for all you do to ensure ours is a society where people don't get left out."

Liz Howgill, 80, from Longdown Lane South, Epsom, is now the honorary secretary of the newspaper having first become involved after developing her love for helping blind people.

Ms Howgill began volunteering at the newspaper after recording books to tape for blind patients at the old Epsom Hospital and now leads a team of more than 30 volunteers from across the borough and beyond.

The team compiles a weekly selection of news from national papers and local sources – including the Epsom Guardian – and distribute them to blind and visually-impaired people on the organisation's mailing list.

January

March

The year started with a snooker legend caught parking illegally, the death of the 'world's greatest Gypsy woman' and the filming of a dinosaur movie in West Ewell

That was the year that was 2015

January

□ Equal rights campaigner Martin Matthews was fined to pay a fine after being found guilty of causing criminal damage to an MP's home.

The 47-year-old scaled Chris Grayling's Ashted home the previous summer to protest about the treatment of fathers in divorce cases.

Mr Matthews was fined £100 and ordered to pay £200 costs and a £20 victim surcharge.

The fine appears to have done little to dissuade Mr Matthews, who repeated the feat, dressed as Bob the Builder, in October.

□ Jimmy White was left snookered when eagle-eyed shoppers caught him illegally parking to pick up his dry cleaning.

White, who lives in Epsom and is known for his distinctive number plate, not only parked up for five minutes on the lines to collect his dry-cleaning, but before that had mounted the pavement according to witnesses.

□ Dressed in First World War uniforms, re-enactors paid homage to the moment 100 years prior, when Lord Kitchener's inspected 20,000 volunteers at Epsom Downs.

Ablaze: Fire raged at Acer House in Epsom

Fortunately the blizzard conditions of a century ago, so bad one man died of hypothermia, were not repeated.

February

□ A huge blaze at a derelict mental hospital caused massive traffic disruption.

Acer House, in East Street, Epsom, was engulfed in flames in the early hours of February 19.

A 54-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of torching the building.

He was later released without charge.

Acer House, shut since 2011, was empty at the time of both fires and no one was injured.

□ Hundreds of mourners gathered to say goodbye to the "world's greatest Gypsy woman".

Sylvia Smith, 64, who lived in Ewell for 16 years and used to read fortunes and give out lucky heather, died after a battle with cancer.

A number of pubs, alerted by police, closed for fear of trouble. But in the event everything passed off peacefully, leading to criticism that people had over-reacted.

□ A Range Rover stolen by thieves in Epsom was discovered by police on a ship destined for Kenya.

Officers from the Metropolitan Police found the car, alongside a number of others and car parts, in containers at the Port of Felixstowe in Suffolk.

March

□ Pub staff and suppliers were left fuming after a pub

On patrol: Re-enactors marched in homage to Lord Kitchener's First World War inspection on Epsom Downs landlady and her daughter vanished owing them thousands of pounds.

Staff at Headley Hills, a 17th century coaching inn in Church Lane, Headley, along with food and drink suppliers for the pub, were left in the lurch by Susan and Isabella Stevenson who surrendered the pub lease in February before disappearing.

The pub re-opened under new management later in the month.

□ Thousands welcomed in the arrival of spring at the annual Bourne Hall celebration.

Birds of prey were on display in the grounds, while Ewell St Mary's Morris Men performed traditional dances and children were enchanted by song and puppetry.

□ News that dinosaurs are alive and living in the Amazon rainforest was revealed to the world at a church in a leafy Surrey village.

Or at least it was in the new adventure movie Extinction, part of which was filmed near the producer Ben Lloyd-Holmes' home in Ewell Village.

The film was billed by the team who produced it as a rival to blockbuster Jurassic World.

June

April

□ Health consultants were embarrassed when plans to close Epsom and St Helier Hospitals and replace them with an 800-bed "super hospital" were overheard on a train.

□ Ashted parents are celebrating after they won their fight to keep their children's centre open.

Surrey County Council was planning a public consultation on closing Ashted Children's Centre, but has decided to back down after a petition attracted hundreds of signatures.

□ A wildlife activist warned people to look out for orphan animals in need.

Simon Cowell, founder of Wildlife Aid Foundation in Leatherhead, said residents should check up on orphan wild animals "from time to time" to make sure they are in good health.

May

□ Residents were in uproar over an application to Reigate and Banstead Borough Council to hold Hindu weddings in a marquee on Croydon Lane.

□ Thousands of people flocked to a colourful May pageant, where children dressed as insects were joined by bikers, Morris men and a band.

□ German carpenters observed a centuries-old tradition when they blessed the newly-constructed roof of a housing development in Leatherhead they were working on.

June

□ A 101-year-old woman who suffered a serious head wound after falling out of bed at a nursing home was not taken to hospital – or seen by a doctor – for two days.

In an inspection in November 2014 the health and social care watchdog rated Firtree House Nursing Home "inadequate overall", although the owner insists improvements had been made.

□ Festivalgoers cheered on Thai boxers and danced to traditional music at a celebration of all things Thai on June 14.

Singers and classical dancers performed at a Thai festival in Hook Road Arena, Epsom.

□ A woman and her four-year-old son, who has special needs, were stuck in a rat-infested bed and breakfast in Croydon for two months.

Epsom Council moved Jessica Wright, 27, who had lived in Epsom for 10 years, into the B&B in crime-ridden Thornton Heath.

□ Crowds flocked to Ewell for two fun-packed events celebrating the community at the annual St Mary's village fair in the grounds of Ewell Castle School, in Church Street, Ewell.

Morris dancers, live music food stalls, puppet shows and more were enjoyed by more than 2,000 people, who helped raise £10,000 for the church.

□ Six-year-old Emily Utting attached a postcard to a helium balloon and let it go from her garden in Worcester

Park, to receive a reply three weeks later all the way from Osnabruck, in Germany – 350 miles away.

August

□ Leatherhead Hospital was saved after Surrey Downs Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) decided not to close it after more than 2,500 people signed a petition to keep it open.

The CCG had proposed to close the hospital following a review of local services, but acknowledged overwhelming public support was a factor in its recommendation to abandon the proposal.

□ At 62, Stephen Hyland is still fighting fit, smashing world records and beating men half his age.

To date he has set 89 world records for chin-ups and pull-ups since his 50s and plans on making it 90.

Incredibly, he has been able to do all that despite damaging both arms and shoulders when he was 21.

□ Two frisky foals escaped their horsebox after the Landrover Discovery that was towing them overturned near junction 9 of the M25 at Leatherhead.

Firefighters were called while two off-duty vets calmed the animals with tranquillisers.

Leatherhead fire station then returned to the M25 hours later to extinguish a fire on a truck carrying 40,000 tonnes of aviation fuel.

September

□ Assaults, threatening behaviour, bullying, fraud, "serious incapability due to drugs or alcohol – the list went on.

A Freedom of Information request by the Epsom Guardian revealed 289 of 309 reported cases of misconduct by Surrey County Council staff over the past five years resulted in disciplinary action.

□ Children at Fennies nursery in Epsom had a wild day as they dressed up as animals to raise money for Sparks, a charity that funds medical research for children.

This year, Fennies' eight nurseries across Kent, Surrey and South London have raised nearly £6,000 for charity between them.

□ More than 60 terriers battled it out at the 13th annual dog race alongside the historic Epsom Downs racecourse in aid of the Royal Marsden charity.

Lyra, a parson jack russell, proved herself top dog on the day, as more than £1,000 was raised for charity.

Outspoken: Stella Lallement

□ Stella Lallement let loose a barrage of attacks on the Epsom and Ewell Liberal Democrats after standing down as Surrey County Councillor for Epsom West.

Mrs Lallement claimed the Lib Dems said she had a "lack of experience in the UK".

Former Lib Dem borough Councillor Julie Morris said Mrs Lallement was "given every support".

□ A suspected arson attack in broad daylight ravaged a derelict building in Court Lane, Epsom.

Chertsey, Banstead, Leatherhead and Epsom fire stations all dispatched crews to the fire after multiple calls from the public.

Firefighter Russell Giles

Poignant: Remembrance Sunday parades took place in the borough Picture: butterflyphoto.co.uk from Banstead fire station said: "About 70 per cent of the property was pretty much destroyed."

□ Eight-legged, possibly venomous invaders sparked panic when distinctive funnel webs were spotted less than a metre from sleeping children.

Phil Hewett, 64, of Ruxley Lane, Epsom, believed the webs' creators were venomous funnel-web spiders.

The semi-retired builder disposed of the spiders by luring them out with a mixture of peppermint, oil and water, before killing them.

November

□ Epsom residents reacted angrily when they found out – yet again – that the world is not their oyster after it was announced that five other Surrey stations would get Oyster cards ahead of them.

Horley, Salfords, Earlswood, Redhill and Merstham will see the contactless system rolled out before Epsom, despite years of campaigning from borough MP Chris Grayling.

□ Epsom and Ewell came together on Remembrance

Sunday to remember all those who suffer as a result of conflict, and to learn to treat the living with the same respect that we treat the dead.

Councillors, servicemen, members of the Royal British Legion, and borough residents packed into St Mary's in Ewell to pay their respects.

□ Prolific rooftop campaigner Martin Matthews of New Fathers 4 Justice were told he faced prosecution – if he climbed Epsom and Ewell MP Chris Grayling's roof for a seventh time.

Mr Matthews was threatened with a criminal conviction for harassment and failure to comply with a police direction after climbing Mr Grayling's roof dressed as Bob the Builder.

December

□ Elderly residents, horrified their favourite social centre could face closure, launched a petition to save it – but Epsom and Ewell Borough Council ripped it from a notice board.

Members of the over-55s club at the Wells Centre in Spa Drive, Epsom, started a petition after the council said it would review the centre's future.

□ The owners of an Epsom home care provider were left "absolutely chuffed and honoured" to be named the best overall business in Epsom and Ewell.

The Epsom and Ewell Business Excellence Awards, which took place at the University for Creative Arts, were attended by business and community leaders.

□ The attempted sale of an antique gun by a school pupil to his classmates sparked a police response that shocked teachers and pupils.

Police said the gun was decommissioned before the pupil took it to North East Surrey College of Technology to try to sell it.

BILLY CONNOLLY

If there is one thing you should keep doing throughout your life, it's learn new things. Thanks to the many people Vibe has interviewed in 2015, we have picked up lots of new information – some priceless, some interesting and some plain useless. Here's our favourites:

STARSTORIES

1. Noel Fielding on how deadlines can aid creativity: "You stop sleeping about three months before you do it, thinking 'I've got to write another joke, I've got to write another joke'. It's horrifying."

2. Lee Nelson told us how you know it's time to smarten up: "First of all, I've had my 14th kid and I thought it was about time I grew up a little bit. One of them was the same age as me and I thought 'You know what, this is getting ridiculous'. Also, I lost my staff discount at Sports Direct so I could no longer afford the gear, so to speak. That just made my mind up for me a little bit."

3. The Dreamboys told us why we're unlikely to ever have buff bodies like them: "Going on a diet is one thing but going on a diet and having a pint at the weekend is going to ruin everything you have done all week."

4. Fashion TV presenter Darren Kennedy told us getting the basics right is essentially to being well-dressed: "If the foundations aren't right, then structurally you're not going to be sound and you are going to run into the issues along the way. So really build up a wardrobe of basics that are going to cover you for so many different occasions. I am talking about the simple things like a crisp white shirt, a good pair of trousers, a really good fitting pair of jeans."

5. Starring in a movie with yourself is far from straightforward as Tom Hardy, who played both Ronnie and Reggie Kray in Legend, explained: "It was more of a mental puzzle that needed to be unpacked and life breathed into it. It was kind of mathematical in a strange sort of way."

6. A Place in the Sun's Laura Hamilton gave us some tips on how to dress well for Ladies Day: "When you walk around in an outfit, your persona, the way you carry it off can actually highlight whether you are well dressed or not. It can help make an outfit stand out."

7. Alan Titchmarsh's golden rule for gardening was simple but inspired: "If you shop once a month and buy two or three things every month, you end up with a garden which always has something to look at."

8. David Walliams on writing: "I act out all of the characters when I write. I came from writing Little Britain and comedy shows and then you would write to perform so I still write in that way. So I do all the voices, if people see me when I'm writing."

9. Nigel Havers is like wine: "Like wine, you get better as you get older."

10. Joe Pasquale reckons he was the sensible one in the Spamalot cast: "I am the only sensible one really out of all of them, and just watch on while everyone else mucks about around me."

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT

It can feel like there is little to look forward to at the beginning of a new year, but there's a feast of entertainment coming your way at the start of 2016...

The Hateful Eight, January 8: Quentin Tarantino's mystery thriller about bounty hunters finding shelter in a blizzard features a cast bursting with talent, including Channing Tatum and Tim Roth.

Creed, January 15: Sylvester Stallone's Rocky movies get some new life as Michael B Jordan plays Rocky's old foe turned buddy Apollo Creed's son who wants to be a champ like his daddy, with Rocky becoming his trainer.

The Revenant, January 15: Director Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu (Birdman) went to extreme lengths to capture the wild setting of the story of frontiersman Hugh Glass, who seeks retribution after he is left for dead following a bear attack. Stars Leonardo DiCaprio.

The Big Short, January 22: Zoolander 2, February 12:

Anchorman director Adam McKay enlists a mega cast including Christian Bale, Brad Pitt, Ryan Gosling, and Steve Carell for a comedy drama that tells the story of four outsiders working in finance who predicted the crash in the mid-2000s and decided to take on the big banks for their greed.

Deadpool, February 4: Marvel comic's foul-mouthed superhero is ready to get a movie of his own, starring Ryan Reynolds.

Dad's Army, February 5: The classic sitcom about the Second World War Home Guard gets a big screen reboot with a cast including Toby Jones and Bill Nighy.

Fifteen years after the original's release, Ben Stiller's dim model Derek Zoolander is back to prove there really isn't more to life than being ridiculously good looking.

Hail Caesar, February 26: The Coen brothers' comedy about a Hollywood fixer working to keep a studio's film in line on a Roman-themed movie stars Scarlett Johansson and George Clooney.

Batman V Superman: Dawn of Justice, March 25: Director Scott Snyder will attempt to transform DC's comics into a cinematic universe like Marvel's as its two titans – with Man of Steel's Henry Cavill reprising his Clark Kent/Superman role and Ben Affleck donning the Batsuit – go head-to-head.

PETS OF THE YEAR

Every week, you have been sending us adorable pictures of your pets. We have loved every one whether they were dogs, cats, rabbits, hamsters or something more exotic. Keep them coming in the New Year. Because it's Christmas, we thought we would share some of our favourites from 2015 with you once again.

KINGSMAN: THE SECRET SERVICE

If you own a radio or TV then there will be no surprises when it comes to the biggest selling song or album of the year.

Apple has released the details of the artists, apps, films and books that topped its charts for 2015.

Unsurprisingly Adele's 25 was the best-selling album of the year on iTunes while, despite being released at the end of 2014, Bruno Mars and Mark Ronson's Uptown Funk was the biggest song.

The store's best-selling film was the Colin Firth-starring Kingsman: The Secret Service, a fun, violent comic adventure about a working-class Millwall fan who becomes a superspy.

EL James' Grey was the best-selling fiction e-book and American Sniper – which was adapted into a Hollywood Blockbuster by director Clint Eastwood – was the top non-fiction book.

Game of Thrones was iTunes' best-selling TV show.

App fans flocked to WhatsApp in huge numbers, making it the top free iPhone app of the year while Crossy Road was top free app on the iPad.

Championed by Ellen DeGeneres, Heads Up! was the biggest selling paid-for iPhone App and Minecraft: Pocket Edition topped the same chart for iPad.

PRICE CHALLENGE

In what is seen by many as a buyers' market, it can seem like a difficult challenge to achieve the asking price of your property. Edward Church of Strutt & Parker, reveals his tips to achieve your selling price.

Choose your agent carefully: "Not all agents are the same. They offer different reach and coverage, in different ways, with different people. Choose one that you can work with and who sells property like yours all day, every day. They will have the best list of buyers."

Establish a strategy: "Your chosen agent should work with you to try to achieve your goals. So work out what is important to you. Is time of the essence? Or do you need to achieve a particular price to deliver your goals? Do you need to be moved by the New Year? Or is next summer more convenient?"

Give yourself realistic time frames: "Typically, the most interest from buyers comes in the first month of being on the market. If you haven't had an offer, listen to your agent to work out if you need to drop the price. Don't do this too soon, but similarly, don't wait too long or the property might seem stale. Deals can fall through because sellers don't adapt to a changing market."

Do the maths: "Ultimately, a house is worth what someone is prepared to pay. However, know the value of your property. If you don't know what it is really worth, as opposed to what you hope it is worth, then how can your buyer know?"

Know your market: "It's not just buyers who should do their research. Use a mixture of property websites and word of mouth from local estate agents to find out what the house next door sold for, as well as similar sized homes further afield. Don't fall into the trap of comparing your price with other guide prices. You need to make real comparisons with sold prices. Simply asking 10 per cent more than what you expect to achieve is a strategy that almost always fails."

Use your poker face: "If the house is worth £500,000, stick to your guns, play it cool and listen to the advice of your agent. Remember, the best poker players know when to fold and when to play out a hand – it is a game of skill based on knowledge of the odds and not a game of chance. Selling a house should be the same."

Consider your tactics: "The first offer might not be the best one. Always ask for an increased offer and wait. You have the property they want to call home. If the buyer is in a rush, use this to get the very best offer for your home. This is where a good agent really steps-up. But don't be afraid to accept the first offer – make your decision based on the circumstances and on facts, not on your preconceived opinions."

Let the agent negotiate: "Sometimes getting personally involved becomes just that – personal. The agent will have done this hundreds, if not thousands, of times before and will have your best interests at heart – to achieve a good selling price with the best possible purchaser. You should have appointed an agent that you trust and respect, so listen to their advice and make sure to ask for it."

Find the right buyer: "Your agent has to inform you of all offers and will personally vet them all to measure their strength. They would have found out everything about the buyer and built up a rapport, even before negotiating. What they determine to be the strongest offer may not be the highest bid, but from a more committed buyer, such as a cash buyer not in a chain. You ideally want to avoid feeling let down by someone who is not in a good purchasing position."

Expect the unexpected: "Be prepared to constantly review your expectations. I sold a house earlier this year that had been on the market for three months with no offers. When we dropped the price by five per cent it went to sealed bids that week and it actually sold for the original guide price. Anything can happen, but the best things happen if you have a good plan and implement it well. Listen, adapt, and expect the unexpected."

Conditions of acceptance of advertisements

General

1. The following conditions apply to the placing of an order for insertion of advertisements in Newsquest Media Group ("Newsquest") printed or electronic publications. Each order will form a separate agreement and English law will apply. Any change to these conditions must be agreed by us in writing (which means by exchange of letter, fax or email). An "advertiser" means any person or organisation placing an advertisement on their own account or on behalf of another.

Contents

2. The advertiser confirms that the advertisement complies with all applicable legislation, regulations and codes of practice, including the codes supervised by the Advertising Standards Authority. We may reject or require changes to any advertisement so as to comply with legal or moral obligations placed on us or the advertiser; to avoid infringing the rights of a third party or any relevant code of practice; or to meet our published production and quality specifications.
3. The advertiser further confirms that:
 - i) the publication of the advertisement will not breach any contract, infringe the copyright, trademark or other right of any third party and is not libelous of any person;
 - ii) all licences and consents from third parties necessary for the publication of the advertisement have been obtained and paid for, including consent from living persons identified in copy or pictures (photographic or otherwise);
 - iii) in respect of an investment advertisement, the contents have been approved by, or the advertiser is, and authorised person within the meaning of the Financial Services Act 1986 as amended or the advertisement is otherwise permitted under that Act.

Payment

4. All advertisements must be paid for in full at the time of booking unless credit has been agreed. The price shall be the amount fixed by our published rate card on the date of acceptance of the order plus VAT where applicable. For non-credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of an advertisement that has not been paid for on time. For credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of any future advertisements if payment is not made in accordance with our payment terms. For credit advertisers, interest will be charged on late payments at the rate of 3% above the Bank of England's base lending rate from the date payment is due together with the administration costs of collecting an overdue debt.

5. By placing an order with us, an advertising agency confirms that it contracts as principal with full authority from its client in all matters connected with the order and is responsible for all payments due. We will only accept advertisements from advertising agencies if they are recognised by us.
6. We will try to give notice of increases, but we reserve the right to change our advertising rates at any time. This will not affect contracts, including any fixed term agreement for a series of advertisements.

Box numbers

7. We will use reasonable efforts to forward replies to box numbers within a reasonable time, but we are not responsible for any failure or delay caused by circumstances beyond our reasonable control, or for any losses relating to an advertiser's business or any loss that is not reasonably foreseeable by both parties.

Cancellation

8. We will notify the advertiser of the latest time that orders can be cancelled (the "booking" deadline) and the latest time that advertising copy can be received by us ("the copy deadline"). An advertiser may cancel up until copy deadline and we will make reasonable efforts to re-sell the space, but the advertiser will be liable for the full price if the space is not sold and we will reclaim any unearned volume-based discount. Private advertisers booking by telephone or online may cancel in accordance with relevant law, but no refund shall be available after the copy deadline unless cancellation is due to our negligence. If the copy is not received by the copy deadline, we will not be liable if the advertisement does not appear, but the advertiser will remain liable to make full payment for the price of the advertisement.
9. We will try to satisfy an advertiser's request regarding the positioning of an advertisement, but no guarantee of position can be given unless agreed by us and paid for at the rate then current.

Errors

10. We are not liable for any error, misprint or non-appearance of an advertisement unless caused by our negligence, in which case the advertiser will be entitled to a re-insertion or proportionate refund. The advertiser is solely responsible for checking the advertisement on each insertion and ordering correction where necessary. Except where we have been negligent, we shall not be liable for an error or misprint that, in our reasonable opinion, does not materially detract from the advertisement. We shall not be liable in any case for losses relating to any business or public fund-raising for the advertiser, such as lost customers, revenue or profit.

Copyright

11. Advertisements are accepted on condition that we have the right to publish them online as well as in any booked titles. The copyright in work or material we contribute to or re-work for an advertisement belongs to us. We will dispose of advertiser's copy, artwork, photographs or other materials after six months unless collected.

General

12. We shall not be liable if our publishing activities are restricted or prevented by any law, act or event beyond our reasonable control (including, for example, industrial dispute). In such case, the advertiser shall accept publication when available or otherwise may cancel the order by written notice and pay only for work done and materials used.
13. We will use the advertiser's details for internal administration. Unless the advertiser tells us not to in writing at any time, we may also share details with other Newsquest companies or with carefully selected third parties, who may send information about goods and services.
14. The advertiser will be liable to pay us for all costs, losses, expenses and damages of any kind suffered or incurred by us as a result of legal claims or actions, actual or threatened, arising from the advertiser's breach of these conditions or the publications of the advertisement, unless caused by our own negligent act or failure.
15. We may cancel the order at any time if the advertiser breaches these conditions and the breach is not capable of remedy or it continues for seven days after we have given written notice of it, or if we reasonably believe the advertiser is unable to pay debts or the advertiser goes or threatens to go out of business.

Method of payment

We will be pleased to accept your payment by any of the following methods: • CHEQUE - Made payable to NEWSQUEST (LONDON) LTD. • BACS - Electronic Bank Transfer • CASH - Paid to one of our Branch Offices. • CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - Please phone to pay by Visa/Mastercard/Switch/Delta

The Surrey County Council Public Footpath No.26 (Epsom & Ewell) Temporary Prohibition of Traffic Order 2015 was made on the grounds of public safety due to construction works taking place on or near the footpath. The Order came into operation on 7 September 2015 and was due to expire on 7 January 2016, but has now been continued in force by the Secretary of State for Transport until 4 March 2016 or until completion of the works, whichever is earlier.

The prohibition described above will only be operative while the County Council, or an authorised person acting on its behalf, displays signs prohibiting the said movements. No access to properties will be affected by the temporary closure.

The alternative route for traffic from the southern end of the closure will be: Turn left onto West Park Road and proceed in a north-westerly direction along West Park Road for approximately 390 metres to its junction with Arnold Way. Friendly, Reliable Service

September: It was a big month for Diana Norman, left, of Epsom & Ewell Harriers. The 41-year-old broke the over-40s pentathlon world record, which had stood for 15 years, while competing in Carshalton. Her total of 4,429 points smashed the old record of 3,960

THE SPORTS REVIEW OF THE YEAR 2015

January: The chosen one returned to Selhurst Park to save Crystal Palace from the Premier League mire. Alan Pardew's, above, first task was to negotiate a tricky FA Cup tie at Dover Athletic, which he did 4-0

Kent Messenger

February: Herne Hill Harriers had reason to be cheerful after it won three 2XU Surrey cross-country League titles. Harriers triumphed in the boys' and girls' U13 competitions, as well as the U15 girls, and had three individual winners – Cathy Ansell, Mohamed Mohamud and Oscar Millard, above

November: Ryman Division One South Corinthian Casuals beat Ryman Premier League Grays Athletic to reach the first round proper of the FA Trophy, but lost to Southern League Premier Division Hungerford Town

Stuart Tree

November/December: There was excitement on the pitch when Sutton Common Rovers reached the last 32 of the FA Vase, thanks in no small part to the goals of Francois Gabbidon, left, and there was excitement off the pitch for AFC Wimbledon, who will be returning to Merton after almost a quarter of a century, right

March: AFC Wimbledon Ladies, left, were crowned Division One champions of the Greater London Women's Football League

October: After being dropped from the England Rugby World Cup squad, Wimbledon RFC's head coach Nick Easter was recalled, but he could not stop their demise

Getty Images

August: Jordan Thomas, above, and his Ashted team-mates won Division One of the Surrey Championship, while Sanderstead were crowned winners of Division Five

July: Wandsworth, above, won the London Youth Games Jubilee Trophy for the third year running, an achievement the Wandsworth sport development officer Peter Freeman described as 'staggering'

Groundwork done

If ever there was a year that was all about whetting the appetite for what is to come, then 2015 was that year, writes Tim Ashton.

The biggest story was undoubtedly AFC Wimbledon finally getting the go ahead from the council to build a new stadium in Merton.

It meant the Dons could return to their spiritual home, to use one of chief executive Erik Samuelson's phrases, after 24 years in exile.

While life on the pitch has not been as exciting, with the Dons in mid-table, the anticipation of running out at the new stadium in 2018 can more than make up for it.

In the more immediate future, Sutton Common Rovers could find themselves in the last 16 of the FA Vase, if they make it four wins in the competition on January 9.

Sutton United are also flying high in the play-offs of the National League South table, with boss Paul Doswell insistent he has his best ever squad at Gander Green Lane.

In the boxing ring, Charlie Edwards became an English champion and then defended his title after only six pro fights. Next year he is looking to take a bigger step towards a European crown.

But there were disappointments too when Laura Robson's return to Wimbledon ended at the first hurdle, and England's rugby team became the first host nation not to make it out of the group stages in a World Cup.

June: As temperatures soared, Laura Robson's, above, England Tennis Club in Wimbledon ended abruptly after a first round straight sets defeat to Evgeniya Rodina of Russia

May: Battersea Ironsides beat Northallerton at Twickenham to clinch the National Junior Vase. Colin O'Keeffe, above, stepped down as skipper in the summer to be replaced by Marcus Bailey
